

SMALL GRANTS APPLICATION TEMPLATE

Before submitting, please make sure that you have read carefully all information about the call on the EADH website. The application must be complete in all its parts in order to be accepted. The full word count (excluding bibliography, keywords and data management plan) must be between 1000 and 1500. For any questions about the small grants, email grants@eadh.org

Applicant name and email

(Applicants may represent teams, but the funds will be awarded to a single individual)

Membership number

(This is the number given to you by OUP or any of the other Associate Organisations)

Title of the project

State of the art of the relevant field

(What relevant research has been already conducted in the field, and what gaps are you trying to address?)

Project's aims and objectives

(What does your project want to achieve, and how will you do it?)

Methodology

(What are your methodological frameworks?)

Project's outputs

(They could be, for example, a digital tool, a publication, a workshop)

Data Management Plan

This section is not part of the wordcount. It should include information about:

Data creation (e.g. What data will be created and in what format(s)? Over what time period? If you're using existing datasets instead, what are they? In what ways are you complying with national or European best practices?)

Data preservation (e.g. Where will you store your data and how they will be organised? What standards are you following?)

Data sharing: (e.g. Will you make the project's outputs available to the community? Under what copyright? Are you providing documentation? Do you have plans for longer-term storage?)

Keywords

(This will help us identify the best reviewers. Keywords are not part of the word count)

Bibliography

(Also not part of the wordcount)

Application checklist! Please, read again the text of the call and verify that your application is complete. Make sure that you are submitting, in addition to this template:

- A two-pages CV
- An itemised budget break-down
- An AI statement
- (Only if relevant) a GDPR declaration.

These separate documents are mandatory (with the exception of the GDPR declaration that has to be included only if relevant) and they are not part of the wordcount. Email everything to grants@eadh.org.

Good luck!
